

QUICK FACTS FOR PARENTS

Childhood Blood Lead Testing

- NH SB 247 Universal Testing Law states health care providers must perform a blood lead level (BLL) test for all 1 and 2 year olds.
- Children 3 to 6 years old who have not previously been tested or are at elevated risk should also be tested.
- If your child receives a BLL test result over 3 mcg/dL, you will receive educational materials and resources for identifying/eliminating lead hazards, such as the availability of state guaranteed loans to help cover the cost of remediation or interim control.

<http://bit.ly/lead-law>

For more information, visit www.NashuaNH.gov/LEADGreaterNashua