Mayor's Youth Jobs Programs

The different programs available through the Mayor's Youth Job Program are listed below. On the application, you are asked to rank your top-3 choices. We cannot guarantee that you would be offered your first choice. Other opportunities not listed below might also become available during this process, and you would be notified of this during your interview.

Community Development: This city division houses a large number of departments that focus on building, planning, zoning, and conservation around Nashua. For this program you would focus on learning about best practices for wetland areas, the approval process for signs and billboards, and other land use issues. You would also be involved with outreach and engagement on other city projects.

Public Health: Work with different programs in the Public Health division including behavioral health and epidemiology. You will learn about what public health is and what the division's goals are for helping to make a healthier Nashua, and get to be a part of working with the community and other partners to protect, preserve, and promote the health of the public.

Assessing Department: How do you know how much a house is worth? How does that change as houses get older or have improvements done to them? Learn the answers to these questions and see how this important office operates.

Nashua Public Library: You will spend each week learning about a different job in the library, and see how a library is about so much more than the books. Learn about how the library works, from how they decide which books to buy to how they can help people with technology. You will also conduct a diversity audit of the teen graphic novel collection to help the library get books that best represent the diverse city we live in.

City Clerk: Learn firsthand what it takes for the City to run an election. You will work with the City Clerk and the Board of Registrars to help register new voters and inform the public on how to register and where and when to vote.
